

Glenda McDowell is a Family and Consumer Sciences teacher at Mid-Prairie High School in Wellman, Iowa. She is in her 22nd year of teaching, is in her 7th year teaching High School FCS, and 2nd year advising an FCCLA chapter. Glenda uses the Family Economics & Financial Education curriculum with high school students in Parent Education, Young Adult Living, and Life Skills classes, as well as with junior and senior seminar advisor groups Throughout her career Glenda has been active in several professional organizations including; Iowa FCS Educators for Progress (IFCSEP), AAFCS, NCFR, NAEYC, and ACTE and has served as a conference speaker. Glenda has received Rotary Teacher of the Year, Renaissance Teacher of the Year (2x) and was named Most Influential Teacher by 3 graduating students in the past 5 years.