

Joanna Krogstad~ Joanna and her family live in Manhattan, MT, where she has taught family and consumer sciences for the past five years. Prior to teaching, she worked for the Women Infants and Children program as a nutritionist. Joanna has been an active part of the Family Economics & Financial Education Project for the past three years. She utilizes all elements of the curriculum and currently teaches two semester courses to grades 9-12. Joanna has been identified as a financial education leader in her community actively working with the local bank to offer services to youth of all ages. Joanna is also a FCCLA Adviser.

To contact Joanna, e-mail her at: jkrogstad@manhattan.k12.mt.us