

Roxane Shammel is a Family and Consumer Science teacher at Sheridan High School in Sheridan, MT. She is in her 24th year of teaching and 24th year of advising an FCCLA Chapter. Roxane uses the Family Economics and Financial Education curriculum with high school students in a two-level course titled, "Independent Living." One level is for freshman and sophomores and the second level is for juniors and seniors. Throughout her career Roxane has been active in several professional organizations including MACTE, ACTE, MTAFCS, AAFCS, SEA, MEA and NEA. Roxane has served in numerous positions of leadership in the Family and Consumer Science Division of MACTE as well as the state MACTE organization. Awards Roxane received include FCS Teacher of the Year for MACTE, Teacher of the Year for MTAFCS, and the 2004 Spirit of Advising award for FCCLA. Roxane has participated in the Family Economics and Financial Education Project for the past three years.